^[1] Generally, an estate files a Federal estate tax return (Form 706) in the year after a decedent's death. So, in 2017, most returns were filed for deaths that occurred in 2016, for which the filing threshold was $5.45 million of gross estate. Because of filing extensions, however, some returns were filed in 2017 for deaths that occurred prior to 2016, for which filing thresholds were lower. There are also a small number of returns filed for deaths that occurred in 2017.

^[1] Generally, an estate files a Federal estate tax return (Form 706) in the year after a decedent's death. So, in 2016, most returns were filed for deaths that occurred in 2015, for which the filing threshold was $5.43 million of gross estate. Because of filing extensions, however, some returns were filed in 2016 for deaths that occurred prior to 2015, for which filing thresholds were lower. There are also a small number of returns filed for deaths that occurred in 2016.

^[1] Generally, an estate files a Federal estate tax return (Form 706) in the year after a decedent's death. So, in 2015, most returns were filed for deaths that occurred in 2014, for which the filing threshold was $5.34 million of gross estate. Because of filing extensions, however, some returns were filed in 2015 for deaths that occurred prior to 2014, for which filing thresholds were lower. There are also a small number of return filed for deaths that occurred in 2015.

^[1] Generally, an estate files a Federal estate tax return (Form 706) in the year after a decedent's death. So, in 2014, most returns were filed for deaths that occurred in 2013, for which the filing threshold was $5.25 million. Because of filing extensions, however, some returns were filed in 2014 for deaths that occurred prior to 2013, for which filing thresholds were lower.

^[1] Generally, an estate files a Federal estate tax return (Form 706) in the year after a decedent's death. So, in 2013, most returns were filed for deaths that occurred in 2012, for which the filing threshold was $5.12 million. Because of filing extensions, however, some returns were filed in 2013 for deaths that occurred prior to 2012, for which filing thresholds were lower.

^[1] Generally, an estate files a Federal estate tax return (Form 706) in the year after a decedent's death. So, in 2012, most returns were filed for deaths that occurred in 2011, for which the filing threshold was $5 million. Because of filing extensions, however, some returns were filed in 2012 for deaths that occurred prior to 2011, for which filing thresholds were lower. The number of returns filed for deaths in 2010 was reduced by a provision in the tax law that enabled estates to opt out of the estate tax system and instead file Form 8939, Allocation of Increase in Basis for Property Acquired From a Decedent.

[1]Generally, an estate files a Federal estate tax return (Form 706) in the year after a decedent's death. However, the estate tax was repealed temporarily for 2010 before being reinstated with the passage of the Tax Relief, Unemployment Insurance Reauthorization and Job Creation Act in December 2010. The law, which was retroactive for all 2010 decedents, raised the estate tax exemption level to $5.0 million and also allowed estates to opt out of the estate tax system and instead file Form 8939, Allocation of Increase in Basis for Property Acquired From a Decedent. These tax law changes, combined with extended filing deadlines for 2010 returns, resulted in relatively few estate tax returns being filed for 2010 decedents during 2011. Therefore, this table is not comparable to prior filing year estate tax tables.

^{*} Estimates should be used with caution because of the small number of sample returns on which they were based.

^[1] The majority of estates file Federal estate tax returns (Form 706) in the year after a decedent's death. So, in 2010, most returns were filed for deaths that occurred in 2009, for which the filing threshold was $3.5 million. Because of filing extensions, however, some returns were filed in 2010 for deaths that occurred prior to 2009, for which the filing threshold was lower.

^{*} Estimates should be used with caution because of the small number of sample returns on which they were based.

^{} Data were combined to prevent disclosure of individual taxpayer data.

^[1] The majority of estates file Federal estate tax returns (Form 706) in the year after a decedent's death. So, in 2009, most returns were filed for deaths that occurred in 2008, for which the filing threshold was $2.0 million. Because of filing extensions, however, some returns were filed in 2009 for deaths that occurred prior to 2008, for which the filing threshold was lower.

^[2] Gross estate is shown at the value used to determine estate tax liability. Gross estate could be reported as of date of death or 6 months thereafter (i.e., alternate valuation method).

 $[\]hbox{\cite{thm-part} assets" category does not include farmland. Farmland was included in the "Other real estate" category.}$

^{*} Estimates should be used with caution because of the small number of sample returns on which they were based.

^{} Data were combined to prevent disclosure of individual taxpayer data.

^[1] The majority of estates file Federal estate tax returns (Form 706) in the year after a decedent's death. So, in 2008, most returns were filed for deaths that occurred in 2007, for which the filing threshold was $2.0 million. Because of filing extensions, however, some returns were filed in 2008 for deaths that occurred prior to 2007, for which filing thresholds may have been lower.

^[2] Gross estate is shown at the value used to determine estate tax liability. Gross estate could be reported as of date of death or 6 months thereafter (i.e., alternate valuation method)

^[3] The "Farm assets" category does not include farmland. Farmland was included in the "Other real estate" category.

^{*} Estimates should be used with caution because of the small number of sample returns on which they were based.

^{} Data were combined to prevent disclosure of individual taxpayer data.

^[1] The majority of estates file Federal estate tax returns (Form 706) in the year after a decedent's death. So, in 2007, most returns were filed for deaths that occurred in 2006, for which the filing threshold was $2.0 million. Because of filing extensions, however, some returns were filed in 2007 for deaths that occurred prior to 2006. In 2005, the estate tax filing threshold was $1.5 million.

^[2] Gross estate is shown at the value used to determine estate tax liability. Gross estate could be reported as of date of death or 6 months thereafter (i.e., alternate valuation method).

^[3] The "Farm assets" category does not include farmland. Farmland was included in the "Other real estate" category. Source: IRS, Statistics of Income Division, October 2008.

^{*} Estimates should be used with caution because of the small number of sample returns on which they were based.

^{} Data were combined to prevent disclosure of individual taxpayer data.

^[1] The majority of estates file Federal estate tax returns in the year after a decedent's death. So, in 2006, most returns were filed for deaths that occurred in 2005, for which the filing threshold was $1.5 million. Because of filing extensions, however, some returns were filed in 2006 for deaths that occurred prior to 2005. In 2006, the estate tax filing threshold increased to $2.0 million.

^[2] Gross estate is shown at the value used to determine estate tax liability. Gross estate could be reported as of date of death or 6 months thereafter (i.e., alternate valuation method).

^[3] The "Farm assets" category does not include farmland. Farmland was included in the "Other real estate" category. Source: IRS, Statistics of Income Division, October 2007.

NOTE: Detail may not add to total due to rounding.

^{*} Estimates should be used with caution because of the small number of sample returns on which they were based.

^[1] The majority of estates file Federal estate tax returns in the year after a decedent's death. So, in 2005, most returns were filed for deaths that occurred in 2004, for which the filing threshold was $1.5 million. Because of filing extensions, however, some returns were filed in 2005 for deaths that occurred prior to 2004, for which the filing thresholds were

^[2] Gross estate is shown at the value used to determine estate tax liability. Gross estate could be reported as of date of death or 6 months thereafter (i.e., alternate valuation method).

^[3] The "Farm assets" category does not include farmland. Farmland was included in the "Other real estate" category.

^{*} Estimates should be used with caution because of the small number of sample returns on which they were based.

^{} Data were combined to prevent disclosure of individual taxpayer data.

^[1] The majority of estates file Federal estate tax returns in the year after a decedent's death. So, in 2004, most returns were filed for deaths that occurred in 2003, for which the filling threshold was $1.0 million. Because of filling extensions, however, some returns were filed in 2004 for deaths that occurred prior to 2002, for which the filling thresholds were lower. For deaths that occurred in 2004, the filling threshold was $1.5 million.

^[2] Gross estate is shown at the value used to determine estate tax liability. Gross estate could be reported as of date of death or 6 months thereafter (i.e., alternate valuation method).

^[3] The "Farm assets" category does not include farmland. Farmland was included in the "Other real estate" category.

^{*} Estimates should be used with caution because of the small number of sample returns on which they were based.

^[1] The majority of estates file Federal estate tax returns in the year after a decedent's death. So, in 2003, most returns were filed for deaths that occurred in 2002, for which the filing threshold was $1.0 million. Because of filing extensions, however, some returns were filed in 2003 for deaths that occurred prior to 2002, for which the filing thresholds were lower

^[2] Gross estate is shown at the value used to determine estate tax liability. Gross estate could be reported as of date of death or 6 months thereafter (i.e., alternate valuation method).

^[3] The "Farm assets" category does not include farmland. Farmland was included in the "Other real estate" category.

^{*} Estimates should be used with caution because of the small number of sample returns on which they were based.

^[1] The majority of estates file Federal estate tax returns in the year after a decedent's death. So, in 2002, most returns were filed for deaths that occurred in 2001, for which the filing threshold was $675,000. Because of filing extensions, however, some returns were filed in 2002 for deaths that occurred prior to 2000, for which the filing thresholds were lower. For deaths that occurred in 2002, the filing threshold was $1.0 million.

^[2] Gross estate is shown at the value used to determine estate tax liability. Gross estate could be reported as of date of death or 6 months thereafter (i.e., alternate valuation method).

^[3] The "Farm assets" category does not include farmland. Farmland was included in the "Other real estate" category.

^{*} Estimates should be used with caution because of the small number of sample returns on which they were based.

^[1] The majority of estates file Federal estate tax returns in the year after a decedent's death. So, in 2001, most returns were filed for deaths that occurred in 2000, for which the filing threshold was $675,000. Because of filing extensions, however, some returns were filed in 2001 for deaths that occurred prior to 2000, for which the filing thresholds were lower

^[2] Gross estate is shown at the value used to determine estate tax liability. Gross estate could be reported as of date of death or 6 months thereafter (i.e., alternate valuation method).

^[3] The "Farm assets" category does not include farmland. Farmland was included in the "Other real estate" category.
