[1] Gross collections include penalties and interest in addition to taxes.

[2] Includes taxes on corporation income (Form 1120 series) and unrelated business income from tax-exempt organizations (Form 990-T).

[3] Collections of withheld individual income tax are not reported by taxpayers separately from Old-Age, Survivors, Disability, and Hospital Insurance (OASDHI) taxes on salaries and wages (under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA) and taxes on self-employment income (under the Self-Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA). Thus, while Table 1 shows these amounts separately for the United States total, separate amounts are not available by State.

[4] Excludes excise taxes collected by U.S. Customs and Border Protection and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau. The Internal Revenue Service collected taxes on alcohol and tobacco until Fiscal Year 1988, and taxes on firearms until Fiscal Year 1991.

NOTES: Detail may not add to totals because of rounding. Partnership, S corporation, regulated investment company, and real estate investment trust data are not shown in this table since these entities generally do not have a tax liability. Instead, they pass through any profits or losses to the underlying owners, who include these profits or losses on their income tax returns. This table shows gross collections. Gross collections less refunds equal net collections. See Table 1 for refunds and net collections. Collection and refund data may not be comparable for a given fiscal year because payments made in prior years may be refunded in the current fiscal year. Adjustments to prior-year refunds made in Fiscal Year 2016 may result in negative amounts when such adjustments exceed current-year collections. See Table 6 for refund data. Classification by State is based on the individual's address (or, in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business). However, some individuals may use the address of a tax attorney or accountant. Sole proprietors may use their business addresses. Such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Similarly, taxes withheld and reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State. Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s).

[1] Gross collections include penalties and interest in addition to taxes.

[2] Includes taxes on corporation income (Form 1120 series) and unrelated business income from tax-exempt organizations (Form 990-T).

[3] Collections of withheld individual income tax are not reported by taxpayers separately from Old-Age, Survivors, Disability, and Hospital Insurance (OASDHI) taxes on salaries and wages (under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA) and taxes on self-employment income (under the Self-Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA). Thus, while Table 1 shows these amounts separately for the United States total, separate amounts are not available by State.

[4] Excludes excise taxes collected by U.S. Customs and Border Protection and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau. The Internal Revenue Service collected taxes on alcohol and tobacco until Fiscal Year 1988, and taxes on firearms until Fiscal Year 1991.

NOTES: Detail may not add to totals because of rounding. Partnership, S corporation, regulated investment company, and real estate investment trust data are not shown in this table since these entities generally do not have a tax liability. Instead, they pass through any profits or losses to the underlying owners, who include these profits or losses on their income tax returns. This table shows gross collections. Gross collections less refunds equal net collections. See Table 1 for refunds and net collections. Collection and refund data may not be comparable for a given fiscal year because payments made in prior years may be refunded in the current fiscal year. Adjustments to prior-year refunds made in Fiscal Year 2017 may result in negative amounts when such adjustments exceed current-year collections. See Table 8 for refund data. Classification by State is based on the individual's address (or, in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business). However, some individuals may use the address of a tax attorney or accountant. Sole proprietors may use their business addresses. Such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Similarly, taxes withheld and reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State. Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s).

[1] Excludes excise taxes paid to the U.S. Customs and Border Protection and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau.

[3] Collections of individual income tax are not reported by taxpayers separately from Old-Age, Survivors, Disability, and Hospital Insurance (OASDHI) taxes on salaries and wages (under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA) and taxes on self-employment income (under the Self-Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA). Thus, while aggregate figures that show these amounts separately are presented in Table 1, separate amounts are not available by State.

[4] Includes tax and excess withholding payments not classified by State as of the end of the fiscal year because they had not been applied to taxpayer accounts. Undistributed amounts may be negative when adjustments to taxpayer accounts have not been completed.

NOTES: Partnership and S corporation data are not shown in this table since these entities generally do not have a tax liability. Instead, they pass through any profits or losses to the underlying owners who include these profits or losses on their income tax returns. This table shows gross collections. Gross collections less refunds equals net collections. Collection and refund data by State may not be comparable for a given fiscal year, because payments made in prior years may be refunded in the current fiscal year. Adjustments to prior year refunds made in Fiscal Year 2013 may result in negative amounts when such adjustments exceed current-year collections. Classification by State is based on the individual's address (or, in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business). However, some individuals may use the addresses of a tax attorney or accountant. Sole proprietors, partners in a partnership, or shareholders in an S corporation may use their business address. Such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Similarly, taxes withheld and reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State. Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s).

Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

[1] Excludes excise taxes paid to the U.S. Customs and Border Protection and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau.

[2] Includes taxes on corporation income (Form 1120 series) and unrelated business income from tax-exempt organizations (Form 990-T).

[3] Collections of individual income tax are not reported by taxpayers separately from Old-Age, Survivors, Disability, and Hospital Insurance (OASDHI) taxes on salaries and wages (under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA) and taxes on self-employment income (under the Self-Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA). Thus, while aggregate figures that show these amounts separately are presented in Table 1, separate amounts are not available by State.

[4] Excludes credits to taxpayer accounts.

[5] Includes tax and excess withholding payments not classified by State as of the end of the fiscal year because they had not been applied to taxpayer accounts. Undistributed amounts may be negative when adjustments to taxpayer accounts have not been completed.

NOTES: Partnership and S corporation data are not shown in this table since these entities generally do not have a tax liability. Instead, they pass through any profits or losses to the underlying owners who include these profits or losses on their income tax returns. This table shows gross collections. Gross collections less refunds equals net collections. Collection and refund data by State may not be comparable for a given fiscal year, because payments made in prior years may be refunded in the current fiscal year. Adjustments to prior year refunds made in Fiscal Year 2013 may result in negative amounts when such adjustments exceed current-year collections. Classification by State is based on the individual's address (or, in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business). However, some individuals may use the addresses of a tax attorney or accountant. Sole proprietors, partners in a partnership, or shareholders in an S corporation may use their business address. Such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Similarly, taxes withheld and reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State. Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s).

Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

[1] Excludes excise taxes paid to the U.S. Customs and Border Protection and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau.

[2] Includes taxes on corporation income (Form 1120 series) and unrelated business income from tax-exempt organizations (Form 990-T).

[3] Collections of individual income tax are not reported by taxpayers separately from Old-Age, Survivors, Disability, and Hospital Insurance (OASDHI) taxes on salaries and wages (under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA) and taxes on self-employment income (under the Self-Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA). Thus, while aggregate figures that show these amounts separately are presented in Table 1, separate amounts are not available by State.

[4] The amount of gift tax collections decreased from $5,778,377,000 in Fiscal Year (FY) 2013 to $2,582,617,000 in FY 2014. The Tax Relief, Unemployment Insurance Reauthorization, and Job Creation Act of 2010 raised the unified estate and gift tax credit to $5 million until December 31, 2012, after which the gift tax credit was to return to $1 million. Uncertainty over whether Congress would extend the higher credit led to a surge in gifts during early FY 2013. The $5 million exemption was made permanent on December 31, 2012, and indexed for inflation, as part of the American Taxpayer Relief Act of 2012 and as a result, the amount of gift tax reported in FY 2014 is more in line with historic trends.

[5] Excludes credits to taxpayer accounts.

[6] Includes tax and excess withholding payments not classified by State as of the end of the fiscal year because they had not been applied to taxpayer accounts. Undistributed amounts may be negative when adjustments to taxpayer accounts have not been completed.

NOTES: Partnership and S corporation data are not shown in this table since these entities generally do not have a tax liability. Instead, they pass through any profits or losses to the underlying owners who include these profits or losses on their income tax returns. This table shows gross collections. Gross collections less refunds equals net collections. Collection and refund data by State may not be comparable for a given fiscal year, because payments made in prior years may be refunded in the current fiscal year. Adjustments to prior year refunds made in Fiscal Year 2013 may result in negative amounts when such adjustments exceed current-year collections. Classification by State is based on the individual's address (or, in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business). However, some individuals may use the addresses of a tax attorney or accountant. Sole proprietors, partners in a partnership, or shareholders in an S corporation may use their business address. Such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Similarly, taxes withheld and reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State. [1] Excludes excise taxes paid to the U.S. Customs and Border Protection and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau.

[2] Includes taxes on corporation income (Form 1120 series) and unrelated business income from tax-exempt organizations (Form 990-T).

[3] Collections of individual income tax are not reported by taxpayers separately from Old-Age, Survivors, Disability, and Hospital Insurance (OASDHI) taxes on salaries and wages (under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA) and taxes on self-employment income (under the Self-Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA). Thus, while aggregate figures that show these amounts separately are presented in Table 1, separate amounts are not available by State.

[4] The American Taxpayer Relief Act (ATRA) of 2012 extended the $5 million gift tax exemption level that was established under the Tax Relief, Unemployment Insurance Reauthorization, and Job Creation Act of 2010. The ATRA extended portability rules related to the passing of an exemption amount from a decedent to a surviving spouse and indexed the exemption amount to inflation. These tax law changes may have encouraged increased gifting in Fiscal Year 2012, which is reflected in the Fiscal Year 2013 gift tax collections.

[8] Includes tax and excess withholding payments not classified by State as of the end of the fiscal year because they had not been applied to taxpayer accounts. Undistributed amounts may be negative when adjustments to taxpayer accounts have not been completed.

NOTES: Partnership and S corporation data are not shown in this table since these entities generally do not have a tax liability. Instead, they pass through any profits or losses to the underlying owners who include these profits or losses on their income tax returns. This table shows gross collections. Gross collections less refunds equals net collections. Collection and refund data by State may not be comparable for a given fiscal year, because payments made in prior years may be refunded in the current fiscal year. Adjustments to prior year refunds made in Fiscal Year 2013 may result in negative amounts when such adjustments exceed current-year collections. Classification by State is based on the individual's address (or, in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business). However, some individuals may use the addresses of a tax attorney or accountant. Sole proprietors, partners in a partnership, or shareholders in an S corporation may use their business address. Such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Similarly, taxes withheld and reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State. Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s).

Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

[1] Excludes excise taxes paid to the U.S. Customs and Border Protection and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau.

[2] Includes taxes on corporation income (Form 1120 series) and unrelated business income from tax-exempt organizations (Form 990-T).

[3] Collections of individual income tax are not reported by taxpayers separately from Old-Age, Survivors, Disability, and Hospital Insurance (OASDHI) taxes on salaries and wages (under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA) and taxes on self-employment income (under the Self-Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA). Thus, while aggregate figures that show these amounts separately are presented in Table 1, separate amounts are not available by State.

[4] The estate tax was temporarily repealed for deaths in Calendar Year 2010 before being reinstated retroactively with a $5-million exemption as part of the Tax Relief, Unemployment Insurance Reauthorization, and Job Creation Act of 2010. As a result of this legislation, the estates of 2010 decedents could elect to file either Form 706 (estate and generation-skipping transfer tax return), due September 19, 2011, or Form 9706 (allocation of increase in basis for property acquired from a decedent), due January 17, 2012. The law also provided a $5-million exemption for the estates of 2011 decedents. These tax law changes significantly reduced estate tax gross collections in Fiscal Year 2011 relative to other fiscal years.

[5] Gifts are taxed based on the Federal tax law in effect for the year in which they are given, and the majority of gifts given in one year are reported to the IRS in the following year. Gift tax collections decreased significantly between Fiscal Years 2011 and 2012, which reflect a decrease in the amount of gift tax collections on gifts made primarily in 2010 and 2011. Gifts made during Calendar Year 2010 were subject to a maximum unified credit amount of $330,800; gifts made during Calendar Year 2011 were subject to a maximum unified credit amount of $1,730,800. The unified credit, which applies to the sum of both taxable gifts made during life and a decedent's estate, is a credit to offset the amount of transfer tax that would be assessed on assets below the applicable exclusion amount.

[7] Includes tax and excess withholding payments not classified by State as of the end of the fiscal year because they had not been applied to taxpayer accounts. Undistributed amounts may be negative when adjustments to taxpayer accounts have not been completed.

NOTES: Partnership and S corporation data are not shown in this table since these entities generally do not have a tax liability. Instead, they pass through any profits or losses to the underlying owners who include these profits or losses on their income tax returns. This table shows gross collections. Gross collections less refunds equals net collections. Collection and refund data by State may not be comparable for a given fiscal year, because payments made in prior years may be refunded in the current fiscal year. Adjustments to prior year refunds made in Fiscal Year 2012 may result in negative amounts when such adjustments exceed current-year collections. Classification by State is based on the individual's address (or, in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business). However, some individuals may use the addresses of a tax attorney or accountant. Sole proprietors, partners in a partnership, or shareholders in an S corporation may use their business address. Such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Similarly, taxes withheld and reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State. Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s).

Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

[1] Excludes excise taxes paid to the U.S. Customs and Border Protection and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau.

[2] Includes taxes on corporation income (Form 1120 series) and unrelated business income from tax-exempt organizations (Form 990-T).

[3] Collections of individual income tax are not reported by taxpayers separately from Old-Age, Survivors, Disability, and Hospital Insurance (OASDHI) taxes on salaries and wages (under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA) and taxes on self-employment income (under the Self-Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA). Thus, while aggregate figures that show these amounts separately are presented in Table 1, separate amounts are not available by State.

[4] The estate tax was temporarily repealed for deaths in Calendar Year 2010 before being reinstated retroactively with a $5-million exemption as part of the Tax Relief, Unemployment Insurance Reauthorization, and Job Creation Act of 2010. As a result of this legislation, the estates of 2010 decedents could elect to file either Form 706 (estate and generation-skipping transfer tax return), due September 19, 2011, or Form 9706 (allocation of increase in basis for property acquired from a decedent), due January 17, 2012. These tax law changes significantly reduced estate tax gross collections in Fiscal Year 2011.

[5] Gifts are taxed based on the Federal tax law in effect for the year in which they are given, and the majority of gifts given in one year are reported to the IRS in the following year. As shown here, gift tax collections increased significantly between Fiscal Years 2010 and 2011, primarily due to fluctuations in the maximum gift tax rate between Calendar Years 2009 and 2011. The maximum gift tax rate fluctuated as follows: for gifts given in 2009, the tax rate was 45 percent; for 2010 gifts, the rate was 35 percent; and for 2011 gifts, the rate was 55 percent. Increased gifting activity in Calendar Year 2010, the result of deferred and accelerated gifts that would otherwise have been given in other years, was reported in Calendar Year 2011, shown here as collections activity in Fiscal Year 2011.

[7] Selected data suppressed to prevent the disclosure of taxpayer information. However, the data are included in the total.

[8] Includes tax and excess withholding payments not classified by State as of the end of the fiscal year because they had not been applied to taxpayer accounts. Undistributed amounts may be negative when adjustments to taxpayer accounts have not been completed.

NOTES: Collection and refund data by State may not be comparable for a given fiscal year, because payments made in prior years may be refunded in the current fiscal year. Adjustments to prior year refunds made in Fiscal Year 2011 may result in negative amounts when such adjustments exceed current-year collections. Classification by State is based on the individual's address (or, in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business). However, some individuals may use the addresses of a tax attorney or accountant. Sole proprietors, partners in a partnership, or shareholders in an S corporation may use their business address. Such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Similarly, taxes withheld and reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State. Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s). Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

[1] Excludes excise taxes paid to the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau.

[2] Includes taxes on corporation income (Form 1120), farmers' cooperatives (Form 1120-C), and "unrelated business income" from tax-exempt organizations (Form 990-T).

[3] Collections of individual income tax are not reported by taxpayers separately from Old-Age, Survivors, Disability, and Hospital Insurance (OASDHI) taxes on salaries and wages (under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA) and taxes on self-employment income (under the Self-Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA).

[4] The estate tax was temporarily repealed for decedents who died in Calendar Year 2010. However, estate tax returns were filed in Fiscal Year 2010 for decedents who died prior to Calendar Year 2010. Legislation enacted in 2010 clarified the filing requirements for the estates of 2010 decedents, creating two options that will affect statistics reported for Fiscal Year 2011.

[5] Excludes adjustments and credits.

[6] Includes tax and excess withholding payments not classified by State as of the end of the fiscal year because they had not been applied to taxpayer accounts.

NOTES: Collection and refund data by State may not be comparable for a given fiscal year, because payments made in prior years may be refunded in the current fiscal year. Adjustments to prior year refunds made in Fiscal Year 2010 may result in negative amounts when such adjustments exceed current-year collections. Classification by State is based on the individual's address (or, in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business). However, some individuals may use addresses of a tax attorney or accountant. Sole proprietors, partners in a partnership, or shareholders in an S corporation may use their business address. Such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Similarly, taxes withheld and reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State. Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s). Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

[1] Excludes collections of excise taxes paid to the Customs Service and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau.

[2] Includes tax-exempt organization business income taxes from "unrelated business income" (Form 990-T) and farmers' cooperatives (Form 990-C).

[3] Collections of individual income tax are not reported by taxpayers separately from Old-Age, Survivors, Disability, and Hospital Insurance (OASDIH) taxes on salaries and wages (under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA) and taxes on self-employment income (under the Self-Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA).

[4] Includes estate and trust income tax collections of $25.6 billion.

[5] Excludes adjustments and credits.

[6] Includes tax and excess withholding payments not classified by State as of the end of the fiscal year because they had not been applied to taxpayer accounts.

[7] Less than $500.

NOTES: Collection and refund data by State may not be comparable for a given fiscal year, because payments made in prior years may be refunded in the current fiscal year. Adjustments to prior-year refunds made in Fiscal Year 2008 may result in negative amounts when such adjustments exceed current-year collections.

Classification by State is based on the individual's address (or, in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business). However, some individuals may use the address of a tax attorney or accountant. Sole proprietors, partners in a partnership, or shareholders in an S corporation may use their business addresses. Such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Similarly, taxes withheld reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State. Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s).

Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

[1] Includes tax-exempt organization business income taxes from "unrelated business income" (Form 990-T) and farmer's cooperatives (Form 990-C).

[2] Collections of individual income tax are not reported by payers separately from old-age, survivors, disability, and hospital insurance (OASDHI) taxes on salaries and wages (under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA), and on self-employment income (under the Self-Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA).

[4] Excludes adjustments and credits.

[5] Includes tax and excess withholding payments not classified by State as of the end of the fiscal year because they have not been applied to taxpayer accounts.

[6] Less than $500.

NOTES: Gross collections exclude excise taxes paid to the Customs Service and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau.

Collection and refund data by State may not be comparable for a given fiscal year, because payments made in prior years may be refunded in the current fiscal year. Adjustments to prior years made in Fiscal Year 2007 may result in negative amounts when such adjustments exceed refunds.

Classification by State is based on the individual's address (or, in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business). However, some individuals may use the address of a tax attorney or accountant, or, in the case of certain individuals who were sole proprietors, partners in a partnership, or shareholders in an S corporation, they may use the business address. Such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Similarly, taxes withheld reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State. Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s).

Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

** Data combined to avoid disclosure of information about specific taxpayers.

[1] Includes tax-exempt business income taxes totaling $884.7 million.

[2] Collections of individual income tax are not reported by payers separately from old-age, survivors, disability, and hospital insurance (OASDHI) taxes on salaries and wages (under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA), and on self-employment income (under the Self-Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA).

[4] Adjustments and credits are not shown by State, but are included in the U.S. totals.

[5] Includes tax payments not classified by State as of the end of the fiscal year because they have not been applied to taxpayer accounts.

NOTES: Gross collections exclude excise taxes paid to the Customs Service and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau.

Collection and refund data by State may not be comparable for a given fiscal year, because payments made in prior years may be refunded in the current fiscal year. Adjustments to prior years made in Fiscal Year 2006 may result in negative amounts when such adjustments exceed refunds. See Table B for refund data.

Classification by State is based on the individual's address (or, in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business). However, some individuals may use the address of a tax attorney or accountant, or, in the case of certain individuals who were sole proprietors, partners in a partnership, or share-holders in an S corporation, the business address. Such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Similarly, taxes withheld reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State. Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s).

Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

(1) Excludes excise taxes collected by the Customs Service and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau.
 (2) Includes tax-exempt business income taxes totaling $623.9 million, of which $457.3 million were from tax on "unrelated business income" (Forms 990-T) and $166.6 million were from tax on farmers' cooperatives (Forms 990-C).
 (3) Collections of individual income tax are not reported by payers separately from old-age, survivors, disability, and hospital insurance (OASDI) taxes on salaries and wages (under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA), and on self-employment income (under the Self-Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA).
 (4) Includes estate and trust income tax collections of $13.9 billion.
 (5) Adjustments and credits are not shown by State, but are included in the U.S. totals. In prior years, adjustments and credits were included in "Undistributed" gross collections.
 (6) Includes tax payments not classified by State as of the end of the fiscal year because they have not been applied to taxpayer accounts.

NOTES: Amounts include adjustments to prior years made in Fiscal Year 2005. These adjustments may result in negative amounts of collections being shown in this table. Collection and refund data by State may not be comparable. Collections relate to FY 2005 for the most part. However, in a given fiscal year, refunds may be issued for a tax paid in a prior year, and therefore, the total refund may exceed the collection amount.
 Classification by State is based on the individual's address (or in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business). However, some individuals may use the address of a tax attorney or accountant, or, in the case of certain individuals who were sole proprietors, partners in a partnership, or share-holders in an S corporation, the business address. Such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Similarly, taxes withheld reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State(s). Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s).
 Through an improved location methodology, entities are now more accurately distributed by State. Beginning with FY 2005, the ZIP Code on the tax return is used to classify returns by State. In prior years, the location of the IRS District Office associated with the taxpayer's account was used to determine State distribution.
 Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

[1] Classification by State is usually based on taxpayer's address (or in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business). However, some individuals may use the address of a tax attorney or accountant, or, in the case of certain individuals who were sole proprietors, partners in a partnership, or share-holders in an S corporation, the business address. Such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Similarly, taxes withheld reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State(s). Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s). Tax collections shown for various States, therefore, do not indicate the Federal tax burden of each, since, in many instances, taxes are collected in one State from residents of, or operations in, another. See footnotes 6 and 7.

[2] Excludes excise taxes collected by the Customs Service and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau.

[3] Includes $347.1 million in "unrelated business income" from tax-exempt organizations (Forms 990-T).

[4] Collections of individual income tax (withheld and not withheld) include old-age, survivors, disability, and hospital insurance (OASDHI) taxes on salaries and wages under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA, and on self-employment income under the Self-Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA. Also, collections of individual income tax include Presidential Election Campaign Fund contributions of $55.9 million. See footnote 7.

[5] Includes estimated tax, shown separately in other tables. Also, includes estate and trust income tax collections of $10.7 billion.

[6] For corporations, includes returns of domestic and foreign businesses whose principal office was outside the United States; also includes returns of domestic corporations claiming a U.S. possessions tax credit, regardless of the location of the principal office. For individual income tax, includes returns filed from Army Post Office or Fleet Post Office addresses by members of the armed forces stationed abroad; returns filed by residents of Puerto Rico with either income from sources outside Puerto Rico or with income earned as U.S. Government employees; and returns filed by other U.S. citizens or residents abroad. For employment taxes, includes returns with foreign addresses, including Puerto Rico and U.S. possessions. For estate tax, includes returns for U.S. citizen or resident decedents who were domiciled abroad at time of death and returns of nonresident alien decedents. For gift tax, includes returns filed by donors with overseas addresses, including returns filed from Puerto Rico or U.S. possessions and from Army Post Office or Fleet Post Office addresses by members of the armed forces stationed abroad. For excise taxes, includes returns filed by taxpayers with foreign addresses, including returns filed from Puerto Rico and U.S. possessions and from Army Post Office or Fleet Post Office addresses.

[7] Includes tax payments made to banks under the Federal Tax Deposit (FTD) system that had not been classified by State as of the end of the fiscal year because they had not yet been applied to taxpayer accounts. Also includes credits allowable on income tax returns for certain gasoline, diesel fuel, and special motor fuel tax payments and for excess payments under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA). In addition, includes that portion of the tax designated by individual income taxpayers for the Presidential Election Campaign Fund. Transfer of amounts to this fund was made on a national basis only.

NOTES: Amounts include adjustments to prior years made in Fiscal Year 2004. This could produce negative amounts of collections shown in the table.

Collection and refund data (shown in Table 9) by State may not be comparable. Collections relate to FY 2004 for the most part. However, in a given fiscal year, refunds relating to prior fiscal years may be issued and subsequently recorded, and, therefore, the total refund amount may exceed the collection amount.

Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

[1] Classification by State is usually based on taxpayer's address or in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business. However, some individuals may use the address of a tax attorney or accountant, or, in the case of certain individuals who were sole proprietors, partners in a partnership, or shareholders in an S corporation, the business address. Moreover, such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Tax collections shown for various States, therefore, do not indicate the Federal tax burden of each, since, in many instances, taxes are collected in one State from residents of, or operations in, another. For example, taxes withheld reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State(s). Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s). See also footnotes 6 and 7, below.

[2] Excludes excise taxes collected by the Customs Service and the Alcohol and Tobacco Tax and Trade Bureau.

[3] Includes tax-exempt organization business income taxes totaling $386.0 million, of which $270.4 million were from the tax (Forms 990-T) on "unrelated business income."

[4] Collections of individual income tax (withheld and not withheld) include old-age, survivors, disability, and hospital insurance (OASDI) taxes on salaries and wages under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA, and on self-employment income under the Self Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA. See also Table 1, footnote 5. Also, collections of individual income tax include Presidential Election Campaign Fund contributions of $55.2 million (see also, footnote 7).

[5] Includes estimated tax, shown separately in other tables. Also, includes estate and trust income tax collections of $8.4 billion.

[6] For individual and estate or trust income tax, includes returns filed from Army Post Office or Fleet Post Office addresses by members of the armed forces stationed abroad; returns filed by residents of Puerto Rico with either income from sources outside Puerto Rico or with income earned as U.S. Government employees; and returns filed by other U.S. citizens or residents abroad. For corporations and a small number of publicly-traded partnerships, includes returns of domestic and foreign businesses whose principal office was outside the United States; also includes returns of domestic corporations claiming a U.S. possessions tax credit, regardless of the location of the principal office. For estate tax, includes returns for U.S. citizen or resident decedents who were domiciled abroad at time of death and returns of nonresident alien decedents. For gift tax, includes returns filed by donors with overseas addresses, including returns filed from Puerto Rico or U.S. possessions and from Army Post Office or Fleet Post Office addresses by members of the armed forces stationed abroad. For employment taxes, includes returns with foreign addresses, including Puerto Rico and U.S. possessions. For excise taxes, includes returns filed by taxpayers with foreign addresses, including returns filed from Puerto Rico and U.S. possessions and from Army Post Office or Fleet Post Office addresses. For tax-exempt organizations, includes returns of domestic and foreign organizations with foreign addresses, including Puerto Rico and U.S. possessions. For supplemental documents, includes returns with foreign addresses, including Puerto Rico and U.S. possessions.

[7] Includes tax payments made to banks under the Federal Tax Deposit (FTD) system that had not been classified by State as of the end of the fiscal year because they had not yet been applied to taxpayer accounts. Also includes credits allowable on income tax returns for certain gasoline, diesel fuel, and special motor fuel tax payments and for excess payments under the Federal Insurance Contributions (FICA). In addition, includes that portion of the tax designated by individual income taxpayers for the Presidential Election Campaign Fund. Transfer of amounts to this fund was made on a national basis.

NOTE: Amounts include adjustments to prior years made in Fiscal Year 2003. This could produce negative amounts of collections shown in the table. Details may not add to totals because of rounding. NOTE: Collection and refund data by State may not be comparable. Collections relate to FY 2003 for the most part. However, refunds relating to prior fiscal years may be issued and subsequently recorded a therefore, the total refund amount may exceed the collection amount.

[r] - Revised.

[1] Classification by State is usually based on taxpayer's address or in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business. However, some individuals may use the address of a tax attorney or accountant, or, in the case of certain individuals who were sole proprietors, partners in a partnership, or shareholders in an S corporation, the business address. Moreover, such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Tax collections shown for various States, therefore, do not indicate the Federal tax burden of each, since, in many instances, taxes are collected in one State from residents of, or operations in, another. For example, taxes withheld reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State(s). Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s). See also footnotes 6 and 7, below.

[2] Excludes excise taxes collected by the Customs Service and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms.

[3] Includes tax-exempt organization business income taxes totaling $494.5 million, of which $319.2 million were from the tax (Forms 990-T) on "unrelated business income," and $175.3 Million were from farmer's cooperatives (Form 990C).

[4] Collections of individual income tax (withheld and not withheld) include old-age, survivors, disability, and hospital insurance (OASDHI) taxes on salaries and wages under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA, and on self-employment income under the Self Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA. See also Table 1 (Summary of Internal Revenue Collections, by Type of Tax, Fiscal Years 2001 and 2002), footnote 5. Also, collections of individual income tax include Presidential Election Campaign Fund contributions of $67.0 million (see also, footnote 7).

[5] Includes estimated tax, shown separately in other tables. Also, includes estate and trust income tax collections of $10.8 billion.

[6] For individuals, estates, or trusts, includes returns filed from Army Post Office and Fleet Post Office addresses by members of the armed forces stationed overseas; returns filed by other U.S. citizens abroad; and returns filed by residents of Puerto Rico with either income from sources outside Puerto Rico or with income earned as U.S. Government employees. For corporations and a small number of publicly-traded partnerships, includes domestic and foreign businesses whose principal office was outside the United States; also includes domestic corporations claiming a U.S. possessions tax credit, regardless of location of the principal office. For estate tax, includes returns for U.S. citizen or resident decedents who were domiciled abroad at time of death and returns of nonresident alien decedents. For gift tax, includes returns filed by donors with overseas addresses, including returns filed from Puerto Rico or U.S. possessions and from Army Post Office or Fleet Post Office addresses by members of the armed forces stationed abroad. For excise taxes, includes returns filed by payers with foreign addresses, including returns filed from Puerto Rico and U.S. possessions and from Army Post Office or Fleet Post Office addresses.

[7] Includes tax payments made to banks under the Federal Tax Deposit (FTD) system that had not been classified by State as of the end of the fiscal year because they had not yet been applied to taxpayer accounts. Also includes credits allowable on income tax returns for certain gasoline, diesel fuel, and special motor fuel tax payments and for excess payments under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act (FICA). In addition, includes that portion of the tax designated by individual income taxpayers for the Presidential Election Campaign Fund; such amounts are not really tax collections as such, inasmuch they do not affect the individual's tax liability. Transfer of amounts to this fund was made on a national basis or

NOTES: Amounts include adjustments to prior years made in Fiscal Year 2002. This could produce negative amounts of collections shown in the table. Detail may not add to totals because of round

[1] Classification by State is usually based on taxpayer's address or in the case of businesses, the location of the principal office or place of business. However, some individuals may use the address of a tax attorney or accountant, or, in the case of proprietors, partners in a partnership, or shareholders in an S corporation, the business address. Moreover, such addresses could have been located in a State other than the State in which the individual resided. Tax collections shown for various States, therefore, do not indicate the Federal tax burden of each, since, in many instances, taxes are collected in one State from residents of, or operations in, another. For example, taxes withheld reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State(s). Also, while taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s). See also footnotes 6 and 7, below.

[2] Excludes excise taxes collected by the Customs Service and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms.

[3] Includes tax-exempt organization business income taxes totaling $652.1 million, of which $523.3 million were from the tax (Forms 990-T) on "unrelated business income."

[4] Collections of individual income tax (withheld and not withheld) include old-age, survivors, disability, and hospital insurance (OASDI) taxes on salaries and wages under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA, and on self-employment income under the Self Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA. See also Table 1, file 01db01co.xls, footnote 5. Also, collections of individual income tax include Presidential Election Campaign Fund contributions of $58.1 million.

[5] Includes estimated tax, shown separately in other tables. Also, includes estate and trust income tax collections of $17.5 billion.

[6] For individuals, estates, or trusts, includes returns filed from Army Post Office and Fleet Post Office addresses by members of the armed forces stationed overseas; returns filed by other U.S. citizens abroad; and returns filed by residents of Puerto Rico with either income from sources outside Puerto Rico or with income earned as U.S. Government employees. For corporations and partnerships, includes domestic and foreign businesses whose principal office was outside the United States; also includes domestic corporations claiming a U.S. Possessions tax credit, regardless of location of the principal office.

[7] Includes tax payments made to banks under the Federal Tax Deposit (FTD) system that had not been classified by State as of the end of the fiscal year because they had not yet been applied to taxpayer accounts. Also includes credits allowable on on income tax returns for certain gasoline, diesel fuel, and special motor fuel tax payments and for excess payments under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act or FUTA. In addition, includes that portion of the tax designated by individual income taxpayers for the Presidential Election Campaign fund, such amounts are not really tax collections as such, inasmuch as they do not affect the individual's tax liability. Transfer of amounts to this fund was made on a national basis only.

NOTE: Detail may not add to totals because of rounding. Amounts include adjustments to prior years made in Fiscal Year 2001. Negative amounts result when such adjustments exceeded current-year receipts.

For corporations and partnerships, includes domestic and foreign businesses whose principal office was outside the United States; also includes domestic corporations claiming a U.S. possessions tax credit, regardless of location of the principal office.

NOTES: Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

[1] Receipts shown for the various States do not indicate the Federal tax burden of each, since, in many instances, taxes are collected in one State from residents of, or operations in, another. For example, taxes withheld reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State(s). Also, taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, although the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s).

[2] Excludes excise taxes collected by the Customs Service and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms.

[3] Includes tax-exempt organization business income taxes totaling $810.8 million, of which $665.9 million were from the tax on "unrelated business income" (Forms 990-T).

[4] Collections of individual income tax (withheld and not withheld) include old-age, survivors, disability, and hospital insurance (OASDHI) taxes on salaries and wages under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA, and on self-employment income under the Self Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA. See also Table 1, file 99db01co.xls, footnote 5.

[5] Includes estimated tax, shown separately in other tables. Also, includes estate and trust income tax collections of $14.3 billion.

[6] For individuals, estates, or trusts, includes returns filed from Army Post Office and Fleet Post Office addresses by members of the armed forces stationed overseas; returns filed by other U.S. citizens abroad; and returns filed by residents of Puerto Rico with either income from sources outside Puerto Rico or with income earned as U.S. Government employees. For corporations and partnerships, includes domestic and foreign businesses whose principal office was outside the United States; also includes domestic corporations claiming a U.S. possessions tax credit, regardless of location of the principal office.

[7] Variances between District Office and State data for International returns is the result of transactions that could not be accurately classified due to internal system limitations.

[8] Includes tax payments made to banks under the Federal Tax Deposit (FTD) system that had not been classified by IRS district/region, and therefore by State, as of the end of the fiscal year because they had not yet been applied to taxpayer accounts. Also includes credits allowable on income tax returns for certain gasoline, diesel fuel, and special motor fuel tax payments and for excess payments under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act or FUTA. In addition, includes that portion of the tax designated by individual income taxpayers for the Presidential Election Campaign Fund; such amounts are not really tax collections as inasmuch as they do not affect the individual's tax liability. Transfer of amounts to this fund was made on a national basis only. For purposes of the statistics, however, such designations are included in the totals by NOTE: Amounts include adjustments to prior years made in Fiscal Year 1999. Negative amounts result when such adjustments exceeded current-year receiv

NOTE: Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.

[1] Receipts shown for the various States do not indicate the Federal tax burden of each, since, in many instances, taxes are collected in one State from residents of, or operations in, another. For example, taxes withheld reported by employers located near a State boundary might include substantial amounts withheld from salaries of employees who reside in a neighboring State(s). Also, taxes of corporations may be paid from the principal office, although the operations of these corporations may be located in one or more other State(s).

[2] Excludes excise taxes collected by the Customs Service and the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco and Firearms.

[3] Includes tax-exempt organization business income taxes (Forms 990T) totaling $689.8 million, of which $473.2 million were the tax on "unrelated business income." Although corporation income tax collections include this tax, the number of returns with this tax is shown separately in Table 2, file 98db02nr.xls and Table 3, file 98db03nr.xls.

[4] Collections of individual income tax (withheld and not withheld) include old-age, survivors, disability, and hospital insurance (OASDHI) taxes on salaries and wages (under the Federal Insurance Contributions Act or FICA), and on self-employment income under the Self-Employment Insurance Contributions Act or SECA). See also Table 1, file 98db01co.xls, footnote 5.

[6] For individuals, estates, or trusts, includes returns filed from Army Post Office and Fleet Post Office addresses by members of the armed forces stationed overseas; returns filed by other U.S. citizens abroad; and returns filed by residents of Puerto Rico with either income from sources outside Puerto Rico or with income earned as U.S. Government employees.

For corporations and partnerships, includes domestic and foreign businesses whose principal office was outside the United States; also includes domestic corporations claiming a U.S. possessions tax credit, regardless of location of the principal office.

[7] Includes tax payments made to banks under the Federal Tax Deposit (FTD) system that had not been classified by IRS district/region, and therefore by State, as of the end of the fiscal year because they had not yet been applied to taxpayer accounts. Also includes credits allowable on income tax returns for certain gasoline, diesel fuel, and spe motor fuel tax payments and for excess payments under the Federal Unemployment Tax Act or FUTA. In addition, includes that portion of the tax designated by individual inco taxpayers for the Presidential Election Campaign Fund; such amounts are not really tax collections as such, inasmuch as they do not affect the individual's tax liability. Transf amounts to this fund was made on a national basis only. For purposes of the statistics, however, such designations are included in the totals by St
